Affiliation

HQCC, previously known as the Healthcare Quality Certification Board (HQCB), is the certifying arm of the not-for-profit National Association for Healthcare Quality (NAHQ), which was formed in 1976 to advance the profession of healthcare quality through the development of a certification program. HQCC establishes policies, procedures, and standards for certification and recertification in the field of healthcare quality. The granting of CPHQ status by HQCC recognizes professional and academic achievement through the individual's participation in this voluntary certification program.

Accreditation

The CPHQ certification program is fully accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA), the accrediting arm of the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (ICE), Washington, DC.

Statement of Nondiscrimination

The certification examination is offered to all eligible candidates, regardless of age, gender, race, religion, national origin, marital status, or disability. Neither NAHQ nor AMP, a PSI business, the examination service provider, discriminates on the basis of age, gender, race, religion, national origin, marital status, gender identity, sexual orientation, or disability.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Introduction to the CPHQ Program

The purpose of certification in the healthcare quality field is to promote excellence and professionalism. The program certifies individuals who demonstrate their knowledge and expertise in this field by passing a written examination. The CPHQ designation provides the healthcare employer and the public with the assurance that certified individuals possess the necessary skills, knowledge, and experience in healthcare quality to perform competently.

The high standards of the certification program are ensured by the close working relationships among NAHQ, HQCC, healthcare quality professionals, and testing experts. HQCC adheres to NCCA standards in the development and implementation of its certification program.

The certification program is not designed to determine who is qualified or who shall engage in healthcare quality activities. The goal is to promote excellence and professionalism by documenting individual performance as measured against a predetermined level of knowledge about quality. All CPHQ are expected to comply with NAHQ's code of ethics in spirit and action. A cooperative effort by HQCC, PSI, and practicing healthcare quality professionals has resulted in the definition of tasks significant to the practice of quality. These competencies are included in the certification examination. The examination materials are developed by practicing healthcare quality professionals and HQCC.

Examination Services

NAHQ contracts with PSI to provide examination services in-person and online internationally or outside of the United States and its territories. PSI carefully adheres to industry standards for development of practice-related, criterion-referenced examinations to assess competency and is responsible for administering and scoring the certification exam and reporting examination results. PSI, which serves as NAHQ's online proctor, maintains a privacy policy and terms and conditions of use that candidates will be subject to in completing the exam online. PSI requires candidates to log onto its Remote Proctoring platform to complete the exam while being monitored through your webcam, microphone and through your computer's desktop, which are all accessible to PSI's remote examiner. PSI collects that information for identity verification, conducting the examination, for fraud prevention, security and integrity, and as otherwise required by law. Before registering to take the CPHQ exam with online proctoring, you are encouraged to read PSI's privacy policy and other applicable terms and conditions, which are available on its website.

Objectives of Certification

The objectives of the certification program for quality professionals are to

1. Promote professional standards and improve the practice of quality
2. Give special recognition to those professionals who demonstrate an acquired body of knowledge and expertise in the field through successful completion of the examination process
3. Identify acceptable knowledge of the principles and practice of healthcare quality for employers, the public, and members of allied professions
4. Foster continuing competence and maintain the professional standard in healthcare quality through the recertification program.

Definition of the Quality Professional

The practice of quality occurs in all healthcare settings, is performed by professionals with diverse clinical and nonclinical educational and experience backgrounds, and involves the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed to perform the tasks significant to practice in the CPHQ examination content outline. (Refer to the Examination Content Outline)

A Certified Professional in Healthcare Quality (CPHQ) is

An individual who passed the accredited examination, demonstrating competent knowledge, skill, and understanding of program development and management, quality improvement concepts, coordination of survey processes, communication and education techniques, and departmental management.

HQCC's goal is to produce examinations that test generic concepts that can be applied to any healthcare setting. Candidates who pass the CPHQ examination must also understand how all of these important elements of quality and case/care/disease/utilization/risk management, as well as data and general management skills, integrate to produce an effective and efficient system to monitor and improve care.

CPHQ Statistics

Certification

To become certified, each quality professional must pass the CPHQ examination. The examination is available in computer-based format online, or at assessment centers in the United States and multiple international locations.

U.S. certificants will receive a digital badge and printable certificate approximately 2 weeks after completing the examination. If you do not receive an email to claim your digital badge, contact info@nahq.org within 1 month of passing the exam. A printed certificate and a CPHQ pin can be purchased at nahq.org.

The credential is valid from the time you receive your digital badge through a 2-year period, which begins on January 1 of the year following the date you pass the examination. Certified professionals are entitled to use the designation “CPHQ” after their names.

Candidates who do not achieve a passing score or whose cycle of eligibility has expired must submit a new application.

Recertification

Following successful completion of the certification examination, the CPHQ is required to maintain certification by fulfilling continuing education (CE) requirements, which are reviewed and established annually by HQCC. The current requirements include:

- Obtaining and maintaining documentation of 30 CEs over the 2-year recertification cycle.
 - CE must be earned during your recertification cycle and cannot be earned during the grace period.
 - CE cannot be earned for activities completed as part of your job-related functions. This includes full-and-part-time employment as well as contract work.

- Current employment in the quality management field is not required to maintain active CPHQ status.
- Payment of a recertification fee.

All CE must relate to areas covered in the most current examination content outline. Current employment in the quality field is not required to maintain active CPHQ status. The process for obtaining recertification can be found in the Recertification Handbook.

Eligibility Requirements

All potential candidates have complete access to the examination process. Those who aspire to demonstrate their competency in the field of healthcare quality have an opportunity to do so and earn certification.

The examination committee develops and writes the examination to test the knowledge, skills, and abilities of effective quality professionals who have been performing tasks on the examination outline for at least 2 years.

Upon submitting your application for the CPHQ exam, you will have 90-days to scheduled and sit for your exam. See the Rescheduling section for more information on how to reschedule your exam.

About the Examination

The CPHQ examination is the only fully accredited examination that standardized measurement of the knowledge, skills, and abilities expected of competent healthcare quality professionals. The examination is available in a computerized format throughout the year at PSI Test Centers, or online.

The certification examination is an objective, multiple-choice examination consisting of 140 questions. Of these questions, 125 are used in computing the score, as discussed later in this handbook. The following percentage guidelines are used in selecting the three types of questions that appear on each examination: approximately 23% recall, 57% application, and 20% analysis. Recall questions test the candidate's knowledge of specific facts and concepts. Application questions require the candidate to interpret or apply information to a situation. Analysis questions test the candidate's ability to evaluate, problem solve, or integrate a variety of information and judgment into a meaningful whole.

Pretest Questions on the Examination

In addition to the 125 scored questions, CPHQ examinations also include an additional 15 pretest questions. You will be asked to answer these questions; however, they will not be included in the scored examination result. Pretest questions will be dispersed within the examination, and you will not be able to determine which of the questions are being pretested and which will be included in your score. This is necessary to ensure that candidates answer pretest questions in the same manner as they do scored questions. This allows the question to be validated as accurate and appropriate before it is included as a measure of candidate competency.

The examination content is based upon a practice analysis conducted every 3-5 years to ensure the content is current, practice-related, and representative of the responsibilities of healthcare quality professionals. Participants in the practice analysis survey must have completed a minimum of 1 year working in healthcare quality, case/care/disease/utilization/risk management for their responses to be included in the research.

An examination question may be left unanswered for return later in the examination session*. Questions may also be bookmarked for later review by using the mouse and clicking in the blank square to the right of the “Time” box. Click on the double arrow (>>) to advance to the next unanswered or bookmarked question on the examination. To identify all unanswered and bookmarked questions, repeatedly click on the double arrow (>>). When the examination is completed, the number of examination questions answered is reported. If not all questions have been answered and there is time remaining, return to the examination and answer those questions. Be sure to provide an answer for each examination question before ending the examination. There is no penalty for guessing.

if you do not have an accommodation while testing online to have a scheduled break*

Candidate Comments

During the examination, comments may be provided for any question by clicking on the button displaying an exclamation point (!) to the left of the “Time” box. This opens a dialogue box where comments may be entered. Comments will be reviewed, but individual responses will not be provided.

Following the Examination

After you finish the examination, you are asked to complete a short evaluation of your testing experience. When taking the examination online or at an exam assessment center, score reports will be provided on the screen following your exam, and digitally in your account. Neither HQCC nor the testing agency will release a copy of individual score reports to employers, schools, or other individuals or organizations without your written authorization.

The score report you receive will include your photograph, taken prior to the start of the examination. This is an unofficial score report. You may not use the CPHQ credential until you receive your official CPHQ digital badge from NAHQ. The score report will reflect either “pass” or “fail,” followed by a scaled score indicating the range of questions you answered correctly. Additional detail is provided in the form of percentages of questions answered correctly by each of the seven major content categories. This information is provided as feedback to help you understand your performance within the major content categories. Your pass or fail status is determined by your overall raw score for the entire examination. Even though the examination consists of 140 questions, your score is based on 125 scored questions. Fifteen of the questions on the examination are “pretest” questions and are not included in the final score.

The content category scores on the score report are not used to determine pass-fail decision outcomes. They are only provided to offer a general indication regarding your performance in each content category. The examination is designed to provide a consistent and precise determination of your overall performance and is not designed to provide complete information regarding your performance in each content category. You should remember that areas with a larger number of items (questions) will affect the overall score more than areas with a fewer number of items. The precision and consistency of scores diminishes with fewer items, and therefore, sub-scores should be interpreted with caution, especially those that correspond to content categories with very few items.

Failing candidates may reapply for subsequent examinations. Candidates may reapply for subsequent examinations 14 days after your initial exam date. Candidates may not test more than three times in 365 days. If a candidate fails to pass the exam after three attempts in 365 days, he or she must wait 365 days from time of the third attempt to reapply for the exam again. For more information regarding failing the examination, see If You Fail the Examination.

Scores Canceled by HQCC or PSI

HQCC and PSI are responsible for the integrity of the scores they report. On occasion, occurrences such as technical malfunction or misconduct by a candidate may cause a score to be suspect. HQCC and PSI are committed to rectifying such discrepancies as expeditiously as possible. Examination results may be voided if, upon investigation, violation of regulations is discovered.

Disciplinary Policy

HQCC grants the CPHQ certification to qualified healthcare quality professionals as a means of promoting excellence and professionalism in the healthcare quality field. The Certification program is a voluntary process. The Commission, in accordance with its policies and procedures, determines whether individuals are qualified for Certification, and issues said Certification when applicable. The Commission does not determine, monitor, or otherwise become involved in the manner employers and other third parties apply the Certification.

Applications for initial Certification or renewal of the same are determined by HQCC at its sole discretion. Without limiting the foregoing, applications may be refused, candidates may be barred from future examinations, or candidates or individuals already Certified may be sanctioned, including revocation of the Certification, for, but not limited to, the following conduct ("Improper Conduct"):

- Including and/or otherwise providing false, misleading, or incomplete information on any application for Certification or renewal, or other CPHQ related document.
- Failing to complete or provide proof of completion of the any Certification or renewal requirements.
- Commissions' determination that Certification or renewal was improperly granted.
- Cheating or assisting others to cheat on any CPHQ exam.
- Purchasing, sharing, and/or reviewing preparatory materials that have, or claim to have, actual questions, answers, or other materials from prior CPHQ exams.
- Removing or attempting to remove examination materials or information from a test site or live remote proctored examination.
- Unauthorized possession or distribution of any official testing or examination materials via social media sites, text messaging, or other medium, and/or reproduced in any format.
- Causing, creating, or participating in an examination irregularity.
- Assisting others to wrongfully obtain Certification or renew their Certification.
- Failure to comply with the code of ethics in which Certification is held.
- Any conduct unbecoming of the healthcare quality profession and/or failure to comply with HQCC's policies and procedures regarding Certification.

The definitions of any and all terms (e.g., misleading, incomplete, cheating, irregularity, unbecoming, spirit, and action, etc.) included in the above example violations shall be determined by the Commission in its sole discretion and are not subject to other interpretation. All CPHQs must read and agree to abide by HQCC's Disciplinary Policies and Procedures prior to sitting to the exam.

Pass or Fail Score Determination

Neither HQCC nor PSI is able to release or discuss individual questions with candidates following the examination. To do so would require elimination of that question from the item bank of pretested questions and deplete the number of pretested questions required to develop future versions of the examination.

The CPHQ exam is scored on a scale of 200 to 800, with 600 being the passing score.

The methodology used to set the minimum passing score is the Angoff method, applied during the performance of a Passing Point Study by a panel of experts in the field. The experts evaluated each question on the examination to determine how many correct answers are necessary to demonstrate the knowledge and skills required to pass this examination portion. Your ability to pass the examination depends on the knowledge and skill you display, not on the performance of other candidates.

Passing scores may vary slightly for each version of the examination. To ensure fairness to all candidates, a process of statistical equating is used. This involves selecting an appropriate mix of individual questions for each version of the examination that meet the content distribution requirements of the examination content blueprint. Because each question has been pretested, a difficulty level can be assigned. The process then considers the difficulty level of each question selected for each version of the examination, attempting to match the difficulty level of each version as closely as possible. To ensure fairness, slight variations in difficulty level are addressed by adjusting the passing score up or down, depending on the overall difficulty level statistics for the group of scored questions that appear on a particular version of the examination.

For more information on scaled scoring and how it is applied to the CPHQ exam, please visit this webpage. The pass rate amongst US-based candidates in 2023 was 65%. This is reflective of the amount of people who passed the exam, NOT the passing score (i.e., the minimum score needed to pass the exam).

If You Pass the Examination

If you pass the CPHQ examination, you will receive by email a copy of your CPHQ digital badge approximately 2 weeks after you pass your exam. Your name, as stated on the application, will appear on the digital badge and printable certificate. The CPHQ digital badge will be sent to the primary email address on file. Learn more about the CPHQ digital badge process here.

Certified professionals are entitled to use the designation Certified Professional in Healthcare Quality® and acronym “CPHQ” with your name on letterheads, business cards, and all forms of address once you receive your official CPHQ digital badge from HQCC. The credential is valid from the time you receive your digital badge through a 2-year period, which begins on January 1 of the year following the date you pass the examination. Certification is for individuals only. The CPHQ designation may not be used to imply that an organization, association, or private firm is certified.

HQCC reserves the right to recognize publicly any candidate who has successfully completed a CPHQ certification examination, thereby earning the certification credential.

Certificates and CPHQ pins can be requested by completing an online order at nahq.org.

Continuing Education Credit

Some organizations accept successful completion of a certification examination for continuing education (CE) credit. Check with your licensure or registration board or association for acceptance and CE credits allowed.

Refer to the Recertification section of this handbook for details about CE requirements to maintain CPHQ status after passing the examination.

Verification of CPHQ Status

Information on the current certification status of an individual can be obtained at nahq.org. Employers who request verification of CPHQ status must provide the individual's name, CPHQ Certification number, and a signature from the candidate to allow the release of candidate's information. Quarterly, a listing of successful candidates will be published at nahq.org.

If You Fail the Examination

If you do not pass the certification examination, you may reapply for subsequent examinations 14 days after your initial exam date. You may test three times in 365 days. If a candidate fails to pass the exam after three attempts in 365 days, he or she must wait 365 days from time of the third attempt to sit for the exam again. Repeat candidates must submit a new application and full examination fee. Names of candidates who do not pass the examination are confidential and are not revealed under any circumstances, except by legal compulsory process.

Appeals

Because the performance of each question on the examination that is included in the final score has been pretested, there are no appeal procedures to challenge individual examination questions, answers, or a failing score.

Actions by the commission affecting eligibility of a candidate to take the examination may be appealed. Additionally, appeals may be considered for alleged inappropriate examination administration procedures or environmental testing conditions severe enough to cause a major disruption of the examination process and which could have been avoided.

Appeals may be submitted by e-mail to info@nahq.org or in writing by mail to the attention of the HQCC chair at the address below:

HQCC Headquarters
8600 West Bryn Mawr Ave.
Suite 710 N,
Chicago, IL 60631, USA

Equivalency eligibility appeals must be received within 30 days of the initial HQCC action. Appeals for alleged inappropriate administration procedures or severe adverse environmental testing conditions must be received within 30 days of the examination date.

The HQCC Chair, or NAHQ Staff, will respond within 30 days of receipt of the appeal. If this decision is adverse, the candidate may file a second-level appeal within 30 days. A three-member panel of HQCC will review the chair/staff decision and respond with a final decision within 45 days of receipt.

Verification of Scores

In computer-based testing, the computer accepts responses from a keyboard or mouse in digitized form. Computer-based testing eliminates problems that may have previously arisen with scanning paper-and-pencil answer sheets, because all responses are recorded by candidates during their examinations. However, verification of examination scores from electronic responses can be requested. For more information about the process and fee for this service, contact NAHQ at 847.375.4720 within 30 days after the examination.

Preparation for the CPHQ Certification Examination

HQCC neither sponsors, endorses, nor financially benefits from any review courses or published preparation materials for the CPHQ certification examination. We are aware of organizations that claim to have real exam items; please be aware that it is illegal for them to possess real exam items since the items are the copyrighted property of NAHQ. If an organization or individual does have real exam items these are stolen property of NAHQ and the organization or individual can face severe civil and criminal penalties.

If a candidate is found to be utilizing materials from a company or individual claiming to have real exam items HQCC retains the right to prevent the candidate from testing, revoke their credential and bar from future testing. See the section Disciplinary Policy for the full disciplinary policy.

CPHQ EXAMINATION CONTENT OUTLINE

The content validity of the CPHQ examination is based on a practice analysis which surveyed healthcare quality professionals on the tasks they perform. Each question on the examination is linked directly to one of the tasks listed on the following pages. In other words, each question is designed to test whether the candidate possesses the knowledge necessary to perform the task or has the ability to apply it to a job situation.

Each of the tasks on the following pages was rated as significant to practice by healthcare quality professionals who responded to the survey. One rule used by the exam committee requires that a task be significant to practice in the major types and sizes of healthcare facilities, including those employed in managed care. Thus, the examination content is valid for this segment of healthcare quality professionals and those employed in hospital, clinic, home care, behavioral and mental health, or other care settings.

The following is a list of tasks that forms the content outline of the CPHQ examination and to which the examination questions are linked.
